

FOR THE PRINCIPAL

Becoming a theTN.ai Campus Partner

One page on what the partnership is, what it asks of the college, and how students' data is protected. The full terms are at thetn.ai/campus/terms.

What theTN.ai is

An independent website about artificial intelligence in Tamil Nadu. It lists AI events, hackathons, internships, courses and schemes, each checked against its source, and corrects its errors in public.

It is not a government website, and it is not approved by AICTE, Anna University or any regulator. For now it is run by StudAI Edutech Private Limited, Chennai, whose founder, Paul Jeevanesan, is its Chief Editor.

What your college gets

- A page for the department on theTN.ai, with a signup link for its students.
- The Monday email for students: the AI deadlines and events open to them.
- Free listing and a social media poster for each AI event the department runs.
- Student projects published, after the faculty coordinator confirms them and theTN.ai checks them.
- Certificates, each with a QR code to a public check page.
- A monthly note of totals, and an annual activity report with dated links.

What we ask

- One faculty coordinator, with an official email: about ten minutes a month.
- Share the students' signup link once a term.
- Send the department's AI events and results as they happen.

Rs 0

No fees, now or later. Not for the page, listings, posters, reports or certificates. No exclusivity: work with anyone else you like.

How students are protected

- ✓ Students sign up themselves, and only if they are 18 or older.
- ✓ The college never sends a student list, and never receives one. It sees totals only; any count under 5 shows as "fewer than 5".
- ✓ No student's data goes to StudAI One or any other company without the student's permission.
- ✓ A student's name comes off published pages within 48 hours of their asking.
- ✓ Handled under India's Digital Personal Data Protection Act, 2023.

How the college is protected

- ✓ theTN.ai never ranks or scores colleges. Partnership is not an endorsement.
- ✓ Before anything critical about the department is published, the department is asked for its response.
- ✓ The college's name and logo are used only as the agreement allows, and come down within 7 days of leaving.
- ✓ Leave at any time with one email. The agreement lasts one academic year.

Signing
